

Partney seeks mayor's resignation; mayor amused

By Jack C. Ventimiglia

GRANITE CITY — The resignation of Mayor Von Dee Cruse is sought by 4th Ward Alderman Dan Partney.

Partney told the Press-Record he wants Cruse out because the mayor released to the newspaper the Feb. 14, 1986, letter about police test scores. Cruse disclosed Friday that in April he sent the letter, which contained information about the investigation into test scores being conducted by Assistant City Attorney John Hopkins.

"In my opinion, this is Granite City's Watergate," Partney said. "At least in Watergate, the president of the United States had the integrity to resign before he brought total disgrace to this country. And I think that it's something the mayor should seriously consider before he brings total disgrace to the city."

"Wants me to resign? I'm sure he does," Cruse said, on the verge of laughter. "No, I'm not going to resign. Sorry."

Partney also called for Hopkins' resignation. Hopkins said he has no intention of resigning and won't. On Thursday, Partney said Hopkins should resign because the attorney tried to "get" him. To support the claim, Partney said the police scores letter written to Hopkins was delivered to the newspaper. After learning Friday that Cruse sent the letter, Partney was outraged.

"I think all this does is prove more of a political conspiracy by Cruse," Partney said. If the intention was political, Cruse said, the test scores would have been raised prior to the April 7 election in which Partney faced the mayor's political ally, former 4th Ward Alderman Tom Hewlett. The information could have hurt Cruse's chances of defeating Hewlett, who lost by 132 votes, Cruse said. Though Cruse said he thought the public should have known then about the test scores, Cruse said he didn't want to give the appearance of trying to gain a political advantage from the information by releasing it before the election.

Partney said the letter was made public after the election because Cruse didn't know how to react to Hewlett's loss.

"I think that he (Cruse) panicked," Partney said.

The two-paragraph letter was released after the election to let the public know that two patrolmen achieved the highest scores in the nation on the test, Cruse said. Those patrolmen were never praised for their scores, though others who have scored well at the state level were honored, he said. The public also needed to know there was an investigation into the scores being conducted, Cruse said, because he did not want to be accused of covering it up.

The political overtones of Cruse making the information public would have been played up by Partney and that's why the letter was submitted in confidence to the newspaper, Cruse said. However, when Partney tried to make it appear Hopkins was responsible, Cruse said he could not allow Hopkins to suffer.

"John Hopkins has been placed in a very controversial position and he has done his job with extreme courage and diligence, and that's the reason I'm coming forward," Cruse said.

City Attorney Mark Goldenberg said Partney's call for Hopkins' resignation is off base. Goldenberg said he has talked with Hopkins and is aware of what was going on during the course of the test scores investigation.

Goldenberg said he believes Hopkins when Hopkins says that there's been no attempt to attack Partney for political reasons. Goldenberg said, "He is an ethical attorney who does admirably in the performance of his job. There is absolutely no impropriety in the way he's conducted the investigation."

The only issue, Cruse said, should be whether there is something wrong with the test scores. Hopkins was justified in doing an investigation because of the uniquely high scores achieved by the two patrolmen, Cruse said. If the investigation did not have merit, then the state's attorney would not have followed up with an investigation by the Division of Criminal Investigation, Cruse said. The investigation is in progress.

Contents of letter to Hopkins revealed

GRANITE CITY — The letter that led to 4th Ward Alderman Dan Partney's calls for resignations from Mayor Von Dee Cruse and Assistant City Attorney John Hopkins was written by a representative of a testing agency.

Sandra Shoun, director of assessment services for the International Personnel Management Association of Alexandria, Va., wrote the letter to Hopkins on Feb. 14, 1986. It contains two paragraphs, six sentences, 119 words. With the letter was a table of scores achieved by other persons.

The following is the complete text of the letter:

In order to assist you with your investigation, I am enclosing the frequency distribution, pass point, and adverse impact data provided to the IPMA Test Rental Service by the users of the IPMA 563 Police Supervisor (Corporal, Sergeant) Examination. The 563 examination consists of 145 items. The highest scores reported on the 563 examination, 143 and 144, were achieved by two candidates who took the examination in Granite City, Illinois. As you will note on the frequency distribution listing, the majority of scores falling in the top third grouping range from 92-104, with 87.5 being the median score for all scores.

We hope this information is useful. Please let me know if I may provide you with additional information.

the closed portion of that meeting, said an ordinance stating the council didn't support Partney's comments on the police issue was needed. Partney said that Hopkins told the council the comments could involve it in a lawsuit. The "ostrich" resolution's effect is to stop aldermen from speaking out when they see something wrong, Partney said. The council passed the resolution.

Hopkins was reportedly concerned about Partney's written statements regarding Police Department. Those statements were made in the July 7 closed session and released to the newspaper by Partney. But Partney said the written comments served the purpose of Police Chief Bill Harris being "forced out by me."

"It's like I told him (Cruse) in caucus (July 21), if he would have cleaned his own house I wouldn't have had to do it for him," Partney said.

Harris resigned at Cruse's request on Tuesday.

Pontoon may hire from a wider area

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — Full-time or permanent employees of the village will be required to live in Pontoon Beach or within a 12-mile radius, unless the board of trustees votes to waive this requirement, a revised ordinance now states.

Adoption of the revised ordinance requires the village to include the phrase "or within 12 miles of Pontoon Beach proper" to cover the objections of "Trustee Louis Whitsell, who cast the lone 'no' vote. Trustees Loren Madison and Lee Adams were absent. Explaining his objection, Whitsell said, "I think it is a mistake to go outside to hire somebody who does not live in the district. I'm sure we have people living here who are unemployed," he said.

Twelve miles radius means applicants from Granite City, Collinsville and Maryville would be eligible for employment, he said.

A lot of thinking went into the revised ordinance, Trustee Bob Abel said. He agreed, however, that Whitsell may be right in his assessment of the number of unemployed in the community.

"But, we've had a problem in the past getting (hiring) policemen out here. It may be hard for someone we want to hire to get a house here and we can always change it back if we get more police," said Abel, defending the revised ordinance.

Whitsell protested the revision on the premise it may only be in effect one year, saying, "We'll have plenty of housing when we get going (on proposed construction)."

"Then we can change it back," Abel replied. Under the original ordinance a waiver was issued as to anyone living outside the village limits for that person to remain a village employee.

In other action, the board agreed to change the name of Guenther Road to Transit Road, the request of the Madison County Transit District. The transit district's headquarters are located on the road.

Public funds can be expended to improve and asphalt the roadway with approval of the name change, explained Jerry Kane, county transit executive, said.

Transitway lies west of Illinois 111, between Interstate 220 and Chain of Rocks Road. Transitway leads off the south side of Chain of Rocks Road.

A $500 supplemental Motor Fuel Tax appropriation for maintenance of outlying streets and highways was approved by the board at a previous meeting.

The funds were designated for oiling and chipping additional village streets in need of improvement. Most of the summer street maintenance work, including street sweeping, already has been completed.

"This amount will pretty well cover all of our streets," said Village President Glen Wilson.

City zoning law not enforced

GRANITE CITY — A recently built apartment complex at the intersection of 27th and Adams streets is possibly in violation of the city's zoning laws.

Ed Schulze, acting city engineer when the apartments were built, said the apartments never received a required occupancy permit because the owner, Ron White, allegedly did not make them conform to approved construction drawings and has so far not resolved zoning law questions.

Schulze said the eight-unit apartment complex is the only commercial building in the city to be built and occupied without a permit since the zoning laws were adopted in 1961.

White began renting apartments in early February and Schulze said he does not know why Assistant City Attorney

GRANITE CITY — The controversy about apartment buildings at 27th and Adams streets erupted in hot debate Tuesday between two aldermen and Assistant City Attorney John Hopkins.

After a resident, Gladys Wagner, read a statement charging that the apartments violated city zoning laws and that Hopkins was not enforcing the ordinances, 4th Ward representatives Dan Partney and Sharon Perjak, whose ward the apartments are in, asked Hopkins to explain Wagner's complaints.

Hopkins' response was to comment because of the potential for a lawsuit. He referred to Wagner's reference to legal action.

"I think it's ridiculous that Mr. Hopkins gave an answer like that," Partney then said.

"You're not going to address that?" Perjak asked Hopkins, and then to Mayor Von Dee Cruse she said, "Mayor, that's ridiculous."

Partney questioned Hopkins on when he would have a response to Wagner's allegations.

"When?" Hopkins said.

"When? This Friday?" Partney asked.

"No," Hopkins said.

"A week from Friday?" Partney asked.

"Maybe," said Hopkins.

Cruse batted his gavel.

"All you're trying to do is pin somebody down," Cruse said to Partney.

The council adjourned to closed session where pending legal matters are normally discussed.

Crider leaves school board

By Bill Bagby

GRANITE CITY — Alan Crider, Board seat at a special board meeting Thursday.

Ranney Rich, 47, president of Riso Oil Co. of Granite City, was chosen by board members to replace Crider.

"I'm very present personal and professional situation, I regret that this action is necessary," Crider's resignation letter stated.

Several telephone calls received last week by the Press-Record/Journal stated Crider planned to resign and that he would be replaced by Rich. Some board members had called the reports rumors.

Rich said Friday he learned via a telephone call at about 11 p.m. Thursday that the board picked him for the post. He said he didn't know anything about being selected before the call.

Board President Kelly Hogan said Friday that Rich and Granite City firefighter Robert Bell wanted the seat. He said they said so at a July 13 fundraiser for Hogan's reelection. Bell was also mentioned at the meeting by Hogan as a replacement for Crider, Hogan said.

More than 88 days remain before the election, Rich will sit on the board until Crider's term expires in November 1989 because there are less than 28 months left in the term, Al Zimmer, general counsel for the Illinois Board of Elections, said Friday.

Illinois Revised Statutes state that because the vacancy occurred with less than 28 months left in the term, the successor can have the seat without a public vote until the end of the term. Crider had 27 months left in his term. Board member David Partney said Crider's unexpired board seat should have been on the November ballot.

"The people should have the choice," he said.

Voting for Rich's appointment was Hogan, Partney, Monroe Worthen and Jo Ann Macios. Dewey Melton and Joanne Terrell abstained.

Information that Crider applied for a District 7 job could not be confirmed late Friday afternoon.

Recognized for service

Thomas E. Holloway, president of First Granite City National Bank, recently presented Mattie L. Pope with a gold watchmark for 25 years of dedicated service to the bank.

Pope joined First Bank in June of 1962 as a customer service representative. She later worked as a teller prior to her being named new accounts supervisor in 1977. The following year, Pope became an officer of the bank, named assistant cashier in March of 1978.

When First Bank opened its first remote facility in 1980, she was named manager of the Bellevue Village branch. She has recently returned to the main bank downtown and is serving as director of public relations.

Among involvement in many community activities, Pope serves as president of the Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

Upon presenting Pope with the 25-year award, Holloway and other bank personnel congratulated her for her dedicated efforts throughout the years on behalf of the bank.

Granite City Police Department controversy reviewed

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive Editor

GRANITE CITY — Accusations of illegal and unethical behavior within the Police Department is the inheritance of newly appointed Police Chief Bob Astorian.

Named chief and colonel on Tuesday by Mayor Jon Dee Cruse, Astorian faces a tough job. His department has members being investigated by the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation; faces a possible second probe by the DCI, on unrelated charges, by county prosecutor Dick Allen; must deal with morale problems within the department that are acknowledged by Cruse; and is the focus of media attention that is resulting in regularly appearing articles.

The resignation Tuesday of Police Chief Bill Harris followed by Astorian's appointment can be viewed as a turning point for the department.

In the midst of the controversy regarding allegations of illegal behavior on the part of some officers, 38 police union members unanimously asked that Harris resign. They no longer wanted Harris. In addition, 4th Ward Alderman Tom Hewlett was alleging the chief's involvement in wrongful activity. Harris' resignation under such circumstances was appropriate for the department's good.

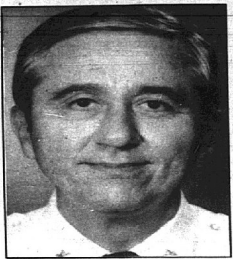

Also for the department's good is Astorian's appointment. The former lieutenant colonel is viewed with respect by law enforcement inside and outside the department. Cruse considers Astorian to be the man most capable of ending the controversy and re-enforcing the confidence this community has in its policemen.

With so much having been written since April about the department, and with recently released information helping to put in order the events of the last several weeks, the following chronology is offered to allow readers to put into perspective how the controversy originated:

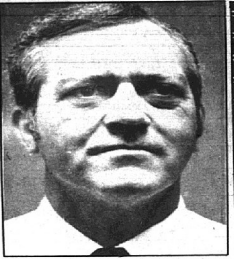

July 1985 — Granite City patrolmen take written tests that are part of what is considered as the basis for promotion. Two patrolmen, David Rosenberg and Dennis Reader, do phenomenally well, achieving scores ranked first and second. Rosenberg, finishing in third place is Tim Lyerla. Later 1985 — Lyerla is promoted with the scores achieved by Rosenberg and Reader. He requests an investigation. Nothing to prove wrongdoing is uncovered, but it is found the police tests were mailed directly to the home of the chairman of the Fire and Police Commission, Dan Partney.

1st Quarter, 1987 — Cruse is supporting his appointee, 4th Ward Alderman Tom Hewlett, in a race against Partney, whom many then and now consider as a possible mayoral contender against Cruse. In 1989, Cruse says he asked two members of the Fire and Police Commission, Bob Barton and Joe Williams, not to embarrass him in the election. Barton says Cruse told them not to support Partney.

April 7, 1987 — After a heated political race, Partney is elected 4th Ward alderman.

April 16 — School Board member David Partney, Dan Partney's brother and business partner, goes to the Den, a popular Granite City lounge, for dinner.

While there with three area newsmen, he eats dinner and drinks three drinks. He says Patrolman Walter Milton Jr. has been harassing him.

April 17 — After leaving the Den and visiting another lounge in St. Louis, Partney stops at Charlie's Restaurant, another popular Granite City night spot.

Also at Charlie's are several off-duty Granite City patrolmen, including Milton. The patrolmen have been bar hopping in a police car. Milton and Partney almost fight. Milton calls Partney "a piece of shit." Partney, who didn't receive a promotion, Partney is arrested at the intersection of the intersection of Del Rio Avenue after Lyerla reportedly observes Partney's car weaving, then striking and jumping a curb. Partney is charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, but refuses to take a breath test.

Later, April 17 — Dan Partney allegedly goes to Patrolman Mike Murgie's house and asks Murgie to try to get David Partney's ticket pulled instead of facing the consequences of "a major shake-up and shame brought onto our department, that starting with the Chief on down that a few people would be out of a job" (based on a police report signed by Murgie).

April 19 — In the Press-Record/Journal, David Partney alleges he was "bustwacked" by Lyerla and Milton, meaning he was set up for the arrest.

April 20 — Murgie writes police reports concerning alleged meeting with Dan Partney that occurred April 17.

April 23 — The Press-Record reports there is an internal investigation being conducted in the Police Department to determine if "entrapment" is involved in David Partney's arrest.

Some time in mid-April — The Press-Record/Journal is given information indicating a city investigation into police scores on the sergeant tests taken in 1985 is on hold within the city.

April 26 — After reviewing the police report written by Murgie, Assistant City Attorney John Hopkins meets with him. The content of the discussion is debated in July.

April 29 — Cruse says Barton and Williams are not team players and he wants them off the Fire and Police Commission.

Hewlett is mentioned as a possible replacement.

April 30 — Police Chief Harris releases a report that the internal investigation uncovered no evidence to support Lyerla did anything wrong in arresting David Partney.

The first article on police test scores appears in the Press-Record. It is noted that the tests were mailed to Dan Partney's home. Partney tells the paper, "We've run our testing program strictly by the statutes."

May 28 — Cruse, Partney and others say an investigation into police test scores is needed. Barton says, "The mayor's little political empire would benefit from this by trying to hurt the Partney faction." Cruse says any investigation will be done "according to the book."

June 5 — Hopkins meets with State's Attorney Dick Allen to discuss the testing issue.

June 9 — No one, including Cruse, comments about whether the Division of Criminal Investigation will examine the issue of police test scores.

June 10 — While driving with State's Attorney Dick Allen to discuss the testing issue, Judge Edward Ferguson of Madison County, David Partney is arrested by Granite City Police because his license is registered as being suspended. After the arrest, on the advice of his attorney, Leon Scroggins, Partney again drives and again is arrested.

June 16 — David Partney's DUI trial starts.

June 17 — A DCI spokesman confirms the division was asked to investigate police test scores. Making the request was Harris and Allen, the Madison County state's attorney.

June 18 — David Partney is convicted of DUI by a jury. He says he will appeal.

June 21 — A prisoner hangs himself at the Granite City Jail. Prisoners are supposed to be checked every half hour, but Bradley Pennebaker's cell hadn't been checked for two hours.

June 23 — Associate Judge Daniel Stark orders the Secretary of State's Office to remove the drivers license suspension against David Partney.

June 25 — The Press-Record reports the DCI is interviewing persons concerning the test scores.

In an editorial, the Press-Record urges that an aldermanic committee be established to investigate and counter problems in the Police Department.

Among statements in the editorial is one by 4th Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak that there is drug use in the department.

June 28 — In the Press-Record/Journal, Perjak reveals that Harris said to her and others that four patrolmen in the department are suspected of drug use.

Sometime in early July — Police union members vote 39-0 to ask that Harris resign or be removed. Among statements made in the original letter is that Harris violated department rules when he publicly stated four patrolmen were using drugs.

July 7 — Harris releases a statement that off-duty patrolmen who were using a police car for bar hopping on the night of David Partney's arrest "have been appropriately disciplined." Details of the discipline are not released, but sources say the officers received written reprimands.

Dan Partney addresses a letter to Cruse and the City Council that is read in closed session. In the letter, several allegations regarding members of the Police Department, including Harris, are made. Among the allegations are sexual misconduct, drinking and drug use by some members of the department. He further alleges Hopkins made promises to Murgie to get him to discredit Dan Partney. The council takes no action in open session.

July 19 — The Press-Record/Journal prints excerpts from Murgie's police report of April 20 after City Attorney Mark Goldenberg released the police report. He says Dan Partney alleged Hopkins made promises to Murgie if Murgie would help "get" Partney. The report was examined by Goldenberg and he says there is nothing in it to support the allegation. Hopkins says he made no improper promises, only that he told Murgie there would be city support for prosecution if Murgie wanted to press assault charges against Partney.

July 20 — Dan Partney releases a tape reportedly containing Murgie's voice. On the tape, it is alleged that Hopkins wants to "get" Partney.

July 21 — Bill Harris resigns as police chief. Lt. Col. Robert Astorian is promoted to colonel and named chief.

Mobile home residents worried about losing place to live

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — The possibility of losing a place to live brought several worried residents of a mobile home park to a recent Village Board meeting.

"We live in the trailer park at 4140 Division Street, and we'd like to know what's going on," Butch Tappel, a mobile home resident, asked Board President Glen Wilson.

"We revoked the license of that park over a year ago. Then someone else bought it and we told him what he had to do to bring the park into compliance with village codes," Wilson said.

"We were told that he would meet our criteria and specifications," said Board Attorney Keith Jensen.

Wilson said after the license was revoked, the park was sold by the original owner, Max Shaeffer, to Robert Woodpool of St. Louis.

Woodpool was issued a permit to upgrade the property. If the required changes had been made, the license could have been reinstated.

"The permit was supposed to be a short-term thing, but it has gone on for two years now and we don't see any improvement," Wilson later said.

The next step would be for the village to initiate condemnation proceedings against the property, Wilson said. Such action had been proposed by the board.

"We've met with them (park operators) and their attorney and we've tried very hard to work something out," Wilson said, offering a small ray of hope to the park residents.

The village board revoked the park's operating license on Sept. 5, 1986, Wilson said. The property was owned at that time by Shaeffer.

I was over there yesterday (Monday) and saw windows busted out and skirting torn off the trailers," the board president said.

"He (Woodpool) was told he had to upgrade and he is not doing what he was told to do. He is still taking in junky trailers instead of bringing things up to our codes."

"We don't want to run you people out of your homes, but the violations are numerous," Wilson said.

Mobile homes must be set on a base pad, electric wiring brought up to standard and skirting replaced. Old trailers used for rental purposes were to be replaced with newer models, the board president said.

"We could have said everyone out (of the park) when the license was revoked, but we wanted to continue to rent to people. He has not done what he said he would do and he's the one who must come up to code with wiring and sewers," Wilson said.

Bob Leopold, a resident at the park, said he had purchased a mobile home from the owner for "so much down and so much a month. What do we do if you close it down?" he asked.

"Most trailer courts and parks no longer will accept mobile homes that predate 1980 models, another man said.

Some residents have tried to do things to improve the park, including landscaping, another person said.

Everyone should keep their own mobile home and lot in good condition, free of weeds and trash, Wilson said.

"I don't want to close him down, but he's had a year to do these things," Wilson said.

"We will try awful hard to work something out," he said.

Board to act on shelter care home

Two Madison County Board committees are planning to "come up with a recommendation" before the Aug. 19 board meeting on whether or not to close the county's sheltered care home, according to board member Robert Stille.

Although a letter-writing campaign by persons who want the home left open had warned that the county board might vote on the closure at its July 15 meeting, the subject did not come up.

But Stille, who is chairman of the health institutions committee, said his committee and the finance committee will decide by the August meeting whether to offer a recommendation one way or the other.

He said the Madison County Sheltered Care Home is operating "under a considerable deficit."

Stille said a number of avenues must be investigated before any discussion on the matter continues.

"We're waiting for some questions to be answered. We're going to have to check the budget (of the home) to see how it's running," Stille said.

"We'll also have to talk to the public aid people — if we would close it down — to see what we have to abide by. We have to look at the projected revenues and expenses for the home before deciding on anything."

Stille said the board's primary concern is the financial situation of the home.

"The building (located at 333 S. Main St., Edwardsville) is over 100 years old and the cost of repair is tremendous," he said.

A $6.5 million bond issue to build a new sheltered care home/nursing home facility was voted down last November. The vote was 36,190 against to 16,299 for the tax increase. Earlier in 1986, the board had voted 25-2 to place the issue on the ballot.

The board said in November that it planned to look at the issue over the next six months to a year before making any decision on it.

The possibility of closing the home sparked a flood of letters of opposition to area newspapers and board members. The letter writers have ranged from a doctor and maintenance worker at the home to pleas from consumers.

Accused either a group letter signed by 40 of the 57 residents.

East St. Louisans involved in chase

Two East St. Louis residents were charged after a July 17 incident, which started at Gasen Drug Store, 2 Nameoki Village Shopping Center, and ended at the Pep Car Wash at 3318 Nameoki Road.

Carolyn E. Ingram, 29, was booked on two state counts of battery and Odell Fields, 47, was charged with felony retail theft. Kevin McCullough, Gasen's manager, said he tried to lock the store's entrance door after a man, later alleged to be Fields, was seen taking boxes of film. A woman employee who tried to stop the man was knocked down by Ingram, it was contended.

Both Fields and Ingram left the store and got into a car on the parking lot. As McCullough tried to get the keys out of the car's ignition, Fields allegedly jumped onto the store manager. Pharmacist Neil Winters then tackled Fields, trying to get the man off the manager. McCullough allegedly was struck in the mouth by Ingram.

The suspects fled across the parking area and crossed the Nameoki Road, chased by Winters.

Ingram and Fields were found by police inside the Pep Car Wash building and were arrested.

What kind of father lets his kid work for nickels & dimes?

A father who realizes that a newspaper carrier route can reward a youngster with more than spending money.

It can teach the sweet satisfaction of self-reliance and paying your own way. It can teach a lot about people, about getting along with fellow workers, about money, and about what you owe customers and what they owe you.

It can teach pride, responsibility and the thrill of earning money. It can teach the satisfaction of seeing your own paper delivered to the door of every subscriber.

Oh, and about the money. In this job the nickels and dimes really do add up to real dollars.

•ZONING

Leaders clash on zoning law

John Hopkins allowed it. Schulze said Hopkins was made aware of White's alleged non-compliance through correspondence from the engineering department.

"I can only go so far. They (city attorneys) must be the ones who help me enforce the zoning laws," Schulze said.

He said the entrance does not comply with city zoning laws.

The apartment issue came up at the City Council meeting Tuesday when a homeowner addressed the council. She said nearby residents had been promised by Hopkins and City Attorney Mark Goldenberg that action would be taken against White if the apartments did not comply with the zoning laws.

Claydon Wagner, of 2723 Michigan Ave., lives directly across an alleyway from the apartments, and she said residents were trying to get the city to enforce its laws. At issue to the residents, said Wagner, is drainage and parking problems she said the apartments caused. She alleged zoning laws were violated when White decided to use an alley as a main parking lot entrance and did not pave the alley.

Wagner said she went to a City Council meeting in March with other residents to complain about the apartments.

"About 10 or 12 of us came. When we arrived in the hall, Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Goldenberg were there. They said they were trying to get the city to enforce its laws. also said White failed to meet approved plot plans for the apartment and has not submitted a promised revised drainage plan.

In a March 6 letter to 4th Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak, Hopkins said the city would "enforce the ordinances if the apartment failed to comply. The apartments are in Perjak's ward."

Schulze also said that on Jan. 27, days before the apartments began to be rented, Hopkins told him that the rental would be stopped if White failed to comply.

On Feb. 4, Schulze sent a memorandum to Hopkins that "some kind of legal action must be taken now," and that White had failed to apply for an occupancy permit.

"I was informed by the residents that there were people moving in," Schulze said.

Hopkins said he originally intended to take action against White but changed his mind.

Hopkins said he was not sure the city was on solid legal ground to keep the apartments from being rented.

"What changed my mind were numerous conversations with the attorney for Mr. White, Mr. Huber, on matters that I had not completely considered. We're trying to resolve it through negotiation," Hopkins said.

White had threatened to challenge the city's zoning law, Hopkins said. He said that, because White was the owner of the alley, Hopkins said he was not sure the city could force White to build an entrance from the alley.

Hopkins also said he was unsure the city could deny White an occupancy permit based on not complying with the alley ordinance.

"We would have had to file for an injunction to keep him from moving in," Hopkins said. He said the city would have had to prove that area residents would have faced serious damages or a stomach aches and fatigue.

"Any attempts by the teen to 'put his or her affairs in order'—such as leaving or throwing away important possessions or cleaning his or her room."

Most attention should also be paid to stress-producing factors in a teenager's life. These may include: indications of chronic illness; death of a parent or friend, peer pressure, parental pressure to achieve, a failed romance, a move to a new neighborhood or school.

Once a teen-ager at risk is identified, many sources exist for help. The Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities and local mental health agencies have suicide prevention and other programs to assist families in coping with the problems that contribute to suicide attempts. Psychiatrists, pediatricians, family physicians, school counselors and other mental health professionals can help.

A Youth Suicide National Center has established the first National Conference on Youth Suicide to be held in Washington, D.C. in 1988 in an effort to better understand and deal with what many experts have termed a "national tragedy."

If you are concerned about a teen in trouble, don't wait. Call a local suicide prevention organization, local hospital emergency room or a physician right away.

"Our goal is to reduce the incidence of injuries and better educate the public on maintaining a healthy back. People that suffer from occasional back pain should learn how to avoid back stress so their condition will not worsen."

The school will be held in the first-floor conference room from 7 to 9 both nights. A $10 fee covers the cost of materials. To register, the number is 465-2571, extension 507.

The course consists of lectures, films, slides and other teaching aids which demonstrate ways to avoid back injury. It is designed for people of all ages, including those who subject their backs to poor posture positions and heavy lifting during day-to-day activities.

"People with chronic back pain will benefit from the education and review anatomy in order to understand the importance of good posture," said Linda Haar, head of St. Anthony's physical therapy department.

The commission covers Madison and six neighboring counties. The information system includes data on "transportation, economy, population and other characteristics of the area."

Low-cost firms are interested in locating in the area, Mikesell said.

He said it allowed those needing information to "go to one place rather than 20" and avoid duplicate expense of "regenerating the same information."

Mikesell said that without the state funds the agency wouldn't have money to do necessary "updating of the information in the system."

Editorial School Board at it again

Alan Crider resigned. He was really a great guy, ya, a great guy. A regular bastion of the community, he was.

The public will really, a, miss him. Ya, that's the ticket. The public will miss him.

Everybody will remember Crider for the humanitarian role he took in forcing out Dr. Max Redmond. Ya, Loved that one.

The greatest thing Crider did — and a plaque should be cast, no, a statue erected to him for it — was that he resigned.

He didn't resign when he did just to keep the public from voting for his replacement. No. He did it because, because, because, it's one of the wonderful things he does — well, it's not important, see? He doesn't want to say why he quit. Keeping it a secret, ya, it's a School Board, no, it's a national security secret. Ya, that's the ticket.

During the past several weeks, the Press-Record/Journal has received calls saying that Crider planned to quit. Ya, well, those callers didn't know what they were talking about. They were, they were making it up. Ya, they made up the whole thing to subvert the board. They said Crider's resignation would be timed so that his replacement would be chosen by board members, not the voting public. Pretty far-fetched, eh? No one could believe that story. Not in a hundred, a zillion years —

Those board members reached prior to the meeting, including Jo Ann Macios, were quoted in the newspaper as saying they didn't know Crider was resigning. Ya, didn't know.

They said they didn't know Ranney Rich was a prospect for the job. Rich said he didn't know he was a prospect for the job. Nobody knew, see?

Certainly no one should think there's anything wrong with those statements just because — on the same day that the news article was published saying nobody knew, Rich became Granite City's known public figure. Just because no one else was given a chance to say why they were more qualified for the job than Rich, who has never held a public post, nobody needs to be suspicious. No. It was all a, a surprise, Ya. A real shocker. Primo revelation.

And certainly no one should think it's curious that board members Kelly Hogan and Macios, who are running for re-election with Marty LeVault, appeared together with Rich during a campaign fund-raiser at Charlie's Restaurant on July 13. Remember, Macios said she had no idea Rich was being considered for the board.

And don't question the fund-raiser itself. Everyone knows nobody's playing politics with the future of District 9 children. The fund-raiser was for, eh, was it for, children in Africa?

Members of the District 9 School Board didn't take away your right to vote for Crider's replacement. No. They, a, they just saved you the trouble. It was a, magnanimous offer.

Magnanimous. Ya, that's the ticket!

Madison County Board blasts IP rate increase

The Madison County Board on July 15 joined critics of electric rate increases by Illinois Power Co.

The board unanimously adopted a resolution urging the company to cut costs and increase efficiency. It asked state officials to take action to stop or mitigate increases.

Introduced by board member Anthony Bosich, D-Wood River, the resolution said rates have increased to such an extent as to create an extraordinary burden on the citizens of Madison County, especially those with fixed income, the poor and the elderly.

The resolution calls on the Illinois Commerce Commission to scrutinize proposals for further rate increases the company is expected to present this year.

Bosich said company stockholders, as well as consumers, should bear some of the burden of management decisions.

Effects of the company's recent 19 percent rate hike were magnified by the utility's normal summer rate differential. The result has been sharply higher monthly bills for many consumers.

Recent rate increases have been related to the construction and operation of the company's new power plant at Clinton, a project which involved massive cost overruns.

Nursing home sought

In accord with requirements of the Illinois Health Facilities Planning Act, a permit is being sought for a construction project by Chouteau Trace Nursing Care Center of Pontoon Beach.

The proposed project is for the establishment of a 120-bed "general long-term care" facility consisting of 60 skilled care and 60 intermediate care beds.

The total estimated project cost is $3,284,000. The project plan was declared complete on July 16, and the review is scheduled for completion by Nov. 12.

Any person wanting a public hearing on the proposed project must submit a written request for such hearing to: Ray Passeri, Executive Secretary, Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board, 535 West Jefferson St., Springfield 62761 (telephone 217-782-3516).

Requests for a hearing must be received by the agency no later than Aug. 27, according to Mick Castevens, administrative clerk, Division of Facilities Development.

5 Triplets named to All-Star team

Five Granite City players have made the District 22 North Division All-Star team. Pitcher Scott LeVault, infielders Todd Hinterser and Jamie Hogan, and outfielders Charlie Collins and Tim Hogan were selected to play in the league's All-Star game Aug. 4 in Fairview Heights. The Triplets' Gus Lignoul will manage the North Division team and Fred McClary of Fairview Heights will direct the South Division squad.

LeVault was 4-3 this summer with a 2.10 ERA and also batted .407. Hinterser lead the team in hitting with a .468 average. He had 23 RBIs and played third base. Jamie Hogan hit .314 as a second baseman/shortstop and also won a big game pitching against Fairview Heights. Collins hit .351 after returning from an injury and was hot down the stretch. Tim Hogan hit .301, scored 21 runs and stole 16 bases in 16 attempts while patrolling center field.

PLAYOFFS START
Granite City and Fairview Heights enter the District 22 playoffs as the top-seeded teams in the North and South Divisions, respectively.

Post 113 won the North Division with a thrilling 3-2, 11-inning win over Marissa on Wednesday. Post 172 fell short of winning the South as Fairview overtook them on the last night of the regular season with an 18-6 win at Troy.

The top three teams in each division received byes this week-end and will enter four-team double-elimination tournaments to be held in each division this week.

NORTH DIVISION: The Triplets (15-5), Edwardsville (14-4) and Highland (10-10) had the weekend off. No. 5 Alton (7-13) and No. 7 Bethalto (3-17) played at No. 4 Collinsville (7-13) on Friday. The winners of those two games were to square off Saturday for the right to play in Granite City at 6 p.m. Monday.

That game will be at Varsity Field at 6 p.m. Monday. Highland will play at Edwardsville also on Monday. The winners will meet Tuesday as will the losers. The loser of the winner's bracket game will play the winner of the loser's bracket game on Wednesday, with the survivor meeting the winner of the winner's bracket game on Thursday. If neither team has lost two games after that, they will play again on Friday to determine the North Division playoff champion.

SOUTH DIVISION: No. 1 Fairview Heights (15-6), No. 2 Marissa (15-6) and No. 3 East St. Louis (14-7) received byes into the double-elimination tournament. In Friday's games, No. 8 O'Fallon (5-16) played at No. 7 Belleville (9-12) while No. 6 Cahokia (10-11) played at No. 5 Smithton (11-10). The winner of the O'Fallon-Belleville game will play the winner of the Smithton-Cahokia game tonight with the survivor playing at Fairview Heights on Monday. Marissa will play at East St. Louis on Monday and the tournament will continue in the same procedure as the North Division.

The game sites and home team are determined by the team with the best winning percentage. The division winners will square off in a best-of-three series Aug. 1-2 at the District 22 championship and the right to advance to the Fifth Division Tournament in Carmi Aug. 6-9. The state tournament is in Danville Aug. 13-16.

Optimists gun for first

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

SAUGET — A week off is all the Optimists want.

If Granite City can somehow come out on top in the race for first place, they would have a week off and an automatic bye into the league finals next week-end in Edwardsville.

But things were still very much in the air going into Saturday's action. The Optimists kept their hopes alive on Friday as Joe Wallace and Chris Hampsey belted seventh-inning RBI triples to lead the team past the Belleville Quax 7-5.

The victory left Granite City with a 14-6 mark in league play (20-7 overall). Brighton was still listed at 13-5 as of Friday night, putting them percentage points ahead of the Optimists. But the win broke a second-place tie with the Quax, who fell to 13-7 in league play. The Optimists were to play O'Fallon at home Saturday afternoon and at Cahokia on Saturday night.

"We just can't seem to make it easy," said manager Paul Kacera after watching his team pull off another late-inning rally.

"We had some bad calls go against us, but we were able to overcome it."

What looked like a killer was the out call on a steal attempt by Chris Nolan after he had walked to start the seventh.

"That one wasn't even close," Kacera said.

But Chad Lignoul — who had a rocky night defensively at shortstop — reignited the rally with an infield hit before Wallace tripled into the gap in right-center to put the Optimists ahead 6-5. With two outs, Hampsey drove a pitch from starter and loser Tony Formosa to the same spot for an insurance tally.

That was enough for starter and winner Mike Krausz. He allowed only one single in the last four innings after Belleville struck for five runs in the first two frames.

"They were hitting me when I threw the fastball," Krausz said. "But then I started throwing some 'junk.' The slider got them out."

Lignoul let Ted Smith's pop-up drop behind third base the boot-on Tim Bayer's grounder, and although Kory Burton appeared to make the tag Bayer was called safe as Yauris scored.

John Van Baskirk singled home Hampsey and Jeff Kohler to tie the game in the second and Krausz' single put the Optimists ahead. But two singles, a triple by Smith and an error by Burton led to three more runs for the Quax and a 5-3 Belleville lead in the bottom of the second.

Left fielder Chris Bartling cut off a potential Belleville rally in the third. With the bases loaded and one out, Eric Calhoun flied to left and Bayer tagged up and tried to score. But Bartling's throw was letter perfect and Wallace made the tag.

Krausz was stingy after that and the Optimists chipped away. Lignoul double home Burton in the fifth, then Van Baskirk doubled home Bartling in the sixth to tie the game at 5-5. The Optimists had runners at second and third with one out but Burton bounced back to the mound and Krausz fanned.

But the Optimists — who had been known for their sixth-inning rallies — won it in the seventh this time. They bounced back from a disheartening 5-4 loss to the Belleville Bombers on Thursday.

If the Optimists finish second or third, they will play a home game on Tuesday to start the playoffs. If they win that, they would play on Thursday for the right to advance to Edwardsville. But first-place finishers get a free pass to Hoppe Park.

Second-place teams play fifth-place teams on Tuesday while third-place teams play fourth-place teams. The playoffs are single-elimination throughout.

A league meeting will be held on Monday night in Collinsville to make the pairings definite. Saturday was the last day of the regular season. The Quax and Brighton were to play a game on Saturday the Optimists were very much interested in.

Game with Marissa was a classic

That was some game the Triplets won on Wednesday. Standing on its own merits, the game was a classic. Post 113 and Marissa Post 172 battled for 11 innings and more than 2 1/2 hours before Tim Patterson sent everyone home with his hit to right field.

Yes, the game alone was good enough. Adding to the drama was the fact that both teams were fighting for division titles. The winner of the game would clinch — Granite City in District 22's North Division and Marissa in the South Division. If the Triplets had lost, they would have finished second to Edwardsville based on Post 199's better record within the North Division (11-1 to 10-2).

Marissa still had a chance to win the South Division after they lost, but those hopes were quickly dashed in Troy as Fairview Heights slashed the home team 18-6 behind Sam Lance's five RBIs.

Both teams wanted the game badly, and that was obvious as they engaged in a starting contest for almost three hours. Marissa finally blinked when Patterson delivered his second game-winning RBI of the week. He had beaten Fairview with a hit on Monday.

"It was a big hit for Tim," said manager Gus Lignoul. "I'm sure he felt good about it after making a mistake which hurt us earlier in the game."

That was a misplay in the seventh inning. Darin Hendrickson was three outs away from a 3-2 win when Mike Hollander lead off with a single to right. Patterson had just moved to right field from second base when Jeff Grote entered the game. But Patterson let Hollander's ball slip by him for a home base or as Hollander scooted to third.

Doug Hokeness tied the game with a hit past a drawn-in infield. "I didn't take my eye off the ball," said Patterson. "I don't know how it got by."

He redeemed himself with the winning hit after Grote singled and was bunted to second by Hendrickson. Patterson is hitting .267 this summer but has driven in nine runs in 45 at-bats.

As in all great games, there were lots of plays to talk about.

In the first inning, Dan Alfeldt — who later had two triples and a double — was on first with two outs when Pat Hake doubled into the right field corner. Alfeldt was waved around but the relay from John Moad to Scott LeVall to catcher Joe Wallace was perfect and Alfeldt was out.

Patterson tripled home two runs and scored on Wallace's sacrifice fly in the second to give Granite City a 3-0 lead, but Marissa chipped away. Alfeldt tried with one out in the sixth and scored on Hake's sacrifice fly. Center fielder Tim Hogan's throw was good enough to get Alfeldt but it bounced high off the grass and over Wallace's head.

After Hokeness' hit tied it in the seventh, David Mercer hit a slow roller to shortstop Jamie Hogan. Jamie bobbled it and Mercer was safe. But Hokeness tried to go all the way to third and Moad — now playing first base — cut him down with a perfect throw to Todd Hinterser.

Wallace was almost a hero when he doubled to deep left with two outs in the seventh. If he had pulled the ball a little more, the game would have been over.

But most of the dramatics were saved for the eighth inning. Alfeldt blooped a double down the left-field line with one out and Hake was walked intentionally. But Jeff Luechtefeld singled sharply to right to load the bases. Patterson charged the ball well and Alfeldt was held up at third. Hendrickson toughened up and got Greg Reinhardt on a short fly to Tim Hogan and again Alfeldt held his ground. Hokeness then grounded sharply to Jamie Hogan for a forecourt.

The Triplets had their chance when Jamie Hogan singled and Hinterser bunted him to second. A passed ball put the winning run at third with one out. Then Bruce Lischer — who pitched courageously himself for 11 innings — walked Moad and Charlie Collins intentionally to fill the bases. The strategy worked when Grote swung in his first at-bat of the night — hit the first pitch to Luechtefeld at shortstop. Hogan was forced at home plate. Hendrickson then grounded to second and Lischer covered first for the third out.

"We want our hitters to always be aggressive," Lignoul snift of Grote swinging at the first pitch. "In that situation, lots can happen if you put the ball in play. He hit the ball well, but their shortstop made a nice play. Marissa made a lot of good plays."

Tim Hogan doubled with two outs in the 10th, but Jamie Hogan flied out. Hendrickson finally had enough after 10 innings and Mark Begando came on and got three ground balls for an easy 11th.

"Darin pitched great," Lignoul said. "And then Mark Begando came in and did a super job. It's a tough situation for a kid who's just coming off his sophomore year. There was a lot of pressure, but he threw strikes and got them out. Darin couldn't go any farther. We were going to take him out a couple of innings earlier, but he kept at it."

The Triplets got a well-deserved four days off after playing nine games in nine days, including seven in six days. They won their last six and 15 of their last 18 to take first place.

"They deserve a rest," said coach Ralph Burnett. "We knew we would have to win our last six games and we did it. And this one was a nice (wedding) anniversary present for me. Now we'll be ready to go Monday."

Madison to elect three school board members

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

MADISON — Petitions to become a candidate for election to the Madison Board of Education will be accepted at the board office, 1707 Fourth St., from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. beginning Monday, Aug. 17. The last day for filing petitions will be Monday, Aug. 24, and the last day for withdrawal of candidacy is Thursday, Sept. 3.

Three board members whose four-year terms expire this year are Frank Eaves, Don Garrett and Edmund Warchol. Warchol is the only one to date to pick up a petition.

Ballot positions for all candidates who present their petitions at 8 a.m. on the first day for filing will be determined by a lottery to be conducted within nine days following the last day for petition filing.

Ballot positions for all other candidates will be in the order in which their petitions are filed.

Forms for nominating petitions and statements of candidacy may be obtained from the secretary of the Board of Education.

Day campers enjoying crafts, games, trips

"Everyone is having a good time, and learning some important lessons, too," according to Bob Slate, Tri-City Area YMCA day camp director.

Friday, July 24, was the end of the seventh of 10 weeks of camp for boys and girls ages six through 13 years.

Activities include kickball, swimming, relays, canoeing, softball, hockey, arts and crafts, and trips to Wilson Park, Busch Stadium, the St. Louis Zoo, the Science Center, Grant's Farm, and a Collinsville water slide.

"The camp is really beautiful. There are woods, an obstacle course, and a 17-acre lake. The kids are learning to appreciate first-hand God's creation," Slate said.

Future trips include a return visit to the water slide and a day at Six Flags. The camp will continue through Aug. 14.

The cost of the camp is $37.50 per week for YMCA members and $47.50 a week for non-members.

After paying the full price for one child, each additional child in a family is half-price.

Day camp is held from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Further information can be obtained by calling the YMCA at 876-7200.

Education chief sees fund nightmare ahead

"The state's education budget is a bitter disappointment that again asks schools to do more with less," according to State Superintendent of Education Ted Sanders.

Sanders' reaction came July 20 after Gov. James Thompson approved a Fiscal Year 1988 state education budget of $2.65 billion, $148.7 million below FY 1987 levels.

Most school programs in the budget are reduced about 4 percent below last year's levels.

General state aid to schools, the largest funding item in the budget, is reduced 2.4 percent, $82.5 million less than last year.

"The state can expect a disruption in the educational process for many students who will suffer a significant loss of important services that were started as a result of reform legislation enacted in 1985," Sanders said.

The reform programs were reduced by 9.1 percent below FY 87.
